

MG Sean M. Jenkins, United States Army

Major General Sean M. Jenkins is Commander of the Joint Enabling Capabilities Command (JECC) in Norfolk, Virginia. As Commander, General Jenkins is charged with the readiness, training and deployment of the joint capabilities provided by the Joint Planning Support Element and the Joint Communications Support Element. The JECC is designed to efficiently and effectively meet joint task force commanders' requirements for a rapidly deployable, tailored team of experts in plans, operations, knowledge management, intelligence support, logistics, public affairs and communications.

General Jenkins earned his commission as an infantry officer upon graduation from the United States Military Academy in 1988. His military and civilian education include the Infantry Officer's Basic and Advanced Courses, the Command and General Staff College, and the United States Army War College. He holds a Masters of Business Administration from Embry Riddle Aeronautical University.

General Jenkins has served in the following roles: Anti-Tank, Infantry Rifle and Scout Platoon Leader; Company Executive Officer; Company Commander; Battalion S4 Trainer, Tarantula Team; Battalion and Brigade Operations Officer; Senior Liaison Officer; Battalion Commander; National Security Fellow at Harvard's JFK School of Government, Harvard University; Brigade Commander, 506th Infantry Regiment, 4th Brigade Combat Team, 101st Airborne Division (AASSLT); Executive Assistant to the PACOM Commander, Camp Smith, Hawaii; Deputy Commanding General (Support), 25th Infantry Division, Schofield Barracks, Hawaii; Deputy Director Operations USCENTCOM, MacDill AFB, Florida; Deputy Commanding General IMCOM, Fort Sam Houston, Texas; and most recently Senior Defense Official and Chief, Office of Security Cooperation, Baghdad, Iraq.

His career includes multiple deployments to Operation Enduring Freedom, Operation Iraqi Freedom, and the CENTCOM AOR.